CASE STUDY with B-Cure Laser Sport Pro

The Patient: Combatant soldier aged 19

Case description:

Erector Spinae inflammation, as a result of long term carrying of heavy weights.
Diagnosed as suffering from acute longissimus myalgia. Suspected Polymyositis.

Prognosis:

Has been suffering for about a month. Pain in various situations including standing, sitting, lying down and walking.

3 week treatment:

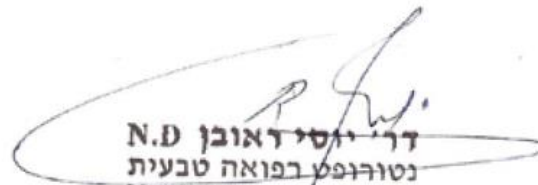

The patient underwent osteopathic treatment as well as the use of B-Cure Laser Sport Pro twice a day for two weeks at the clinic.

Results:

By treatment no. 6 there were changes in the level of pain. By treatment no. 7 I stopped the osteopathic treatment and the soldier continues using the device at home for an additional week, twice a day for 8 minutes at the point of treatment. After this period the soldier reported that the pain had ceased in the areas he had complained about.

Professional recommendation:

In light of the results I recommend the use of the B-Cure Sport Pro device for orthopedic problems as above, and suggest examining the possibility of introducing the device into military clinics.
